Terms and Conditions

photohire Ltd reserves the right to hire its equipment to those who it deems suitable, and if you are unknown to us we require a copy of a photo id, either passport or NZ drivers license and possibly a reference.

Equipment:

All equipment is checked before it is sent out and deemed to be in working order. It is up to the customer to check this if you fail to do this and the equipment doesn't work for you, you will still be liable for any hire period relating to the hire.

Equipment failure - Please ring us immediately if the equipment fails and we will organise to have it fixed or replaced ASAP, In event of delays to a shoot we will credit the hirer with additional time or equipment use, but will not be held responsible for any other costs.

Breakages of lamps and tubes will be charged for at cost.

Damage or breakage of equipment should be notified to us immediately, so we can provide you with replacement where possible.

Any damage to equipment will be assessed by photohire staff and or trained technicians, only.

Payment:

Hirers are required to pay in advance by direct credit or cash.

All clients with accounts will be invoiced and are required to pay on or before the 20th of the month following the hire.

Any customer with an outstanding account may be refused equipment until their account is current.

Insurance

A copy of photohire's insurance policy is available on request.

All equipment is covered by insurance and included in the hire fee with an excess of $2500.

If the equipment is lost or damaged, the customer will pay to the company photohire Ltd the full current replacement price or value of the repair, whichever is most suitable to photohire Ltd up to the value of $2500

Person Responsible

It is important that the person responsible for hiring the equipment maintains direct care of the goods, as they will be liable if something goes wrong.

NOTE: The company photohire Ltd is not obliged to inform the customer of any particular liability until such time as the equipment has been fully checked by the company.

NOTE: Equipment left in unlocked premises, unattended cars or left unattended on location is not covered.

NOTE: Any equipment taken on to beaches, wet places or in or near any hazardous locations may not be covered by insurance, so if you have any doubts please ask first and we will check.

NOTE: All electronic lighting and digital cameras are susceptible to dust, humidity, damp, and rain and if you intend to operate our equipment in these conditions you will need to take extra care to keep it dry and clean.

Familiarisation

If you have not used a particular piece of equipment before we are happy to organise a time with the equipment or capture program and or a trained assistant. We don't expect everybody to have used all our equipment, and thus are happy to provide any relevant training.

Returns

If, for whatever reason, the equipment is returned later than the agreed time, then the customer will be charged for the extra hire period.

Hire Rates

All hire rates are listed on the web site and are for a period of one day plus 5 % insurance plus 15% gst. Half days will be charged at 60% of day rate plus insurance plus GST.
